

Borovitza Dux 2021

Borovitza is nestled among the iconic red sandstone rocks of Belogradchik in Northwest Bulgaria. Here, winemaker Adriana Srebrinova produces wines that chart their own course entirely: with minimal intervention in the cellar and maximum expression of the soil. DUX is the absolute flagship of that philosophy.

DUX combines depth with a delightful wildness and a touch of elegance. On the nose and palate, you discover dark forest fruit, ripe cedarwood, dried herbs, and that characteristic, almost iron-like minerality of the red rocky soil. Thanks to its natural freshness, the wine remains incredibly drinkable despite its power. The tannins are ripe and provide structure.

32.23 €

|                    |                                                   |
|--------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| Winery             | Borovitza                                         |
| Country - Region   | Bulgaria, Danube Valley                           |
| Winestyle          | Red: complex & elegant                            |
| Grape Variety      | Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon                        |
| Viticulture        | Biologic/Organic                                  |
| Winemaking         | Natural                                           |
| Maturation         | 12 months in used barriques                       |
| Drinking window    | 2024-2027                                         |
| Gastronomy         | Preparations with pork, veal, poultry, game birds |
| Volume (cl.)       | 75.0                                              |
| Alcohol percentage | 13.0                                              |